

Brother Team Ends Butch Clark Departs

BENNINGTON's "brother postal team" separated late last month after two years when PC3 "Butch" Clark departed for duty aboard the destroyer USS STODDARD, homeported in San Diego, Calif.

"Butch" is younger brother of "K.B." who heads the BENN post office and is soon destined for civilian life upon completing his third Far East cruise aboard "Big BENN".

Promotions last month hit the postal clerks budget when "K.B." donned his PC2 crown, and G. Brophy, N. McFarland and "Butch" sewed on the PC3 rate. "Butch" was said to have gotten off the easiest though when he played the natural role of younger brother and was seen sporting around in "K.B.'s" salty hand-me-down shirts.

"Butch" plans to spend 30 days leave with his folks back in Alamo, Ga., before reporting aboard the STODDARD. The jovial sandy-headed sailor says, "it'll be great to run around without shoes on for 30 days."

But, we also understand he purchased a set of rings for a close friend he's been corresponding with....maybe LaFerra can convince him that the modern technique of walking down the aisle is with shoes on your feet. Anyway, good luck and SMOOGE sailing "Butch".
