

With the capsule alongside, the safety line is attached (above), and the B & A Crane hook is lowered in preparation for bringing the module on board Bennington (below).

