

Baby Benn Entries Pour In As Contest Deadline Nears

The Baby Benn contest only has two weeks left to run as the entries continue to roll in. The contest, which was announced in the last issue of the JET BLAST, has been received enthusiastically with Baby Benn scheduled to be crowned in the March 2 issue of the paper.

The rules of the contest are simple:

1. This contest is limited to members of the crew of the USS Bennington (CVA-20).

2. All entries will be hand-delivered to the Public Information office with the following information attached to each entry:

- Name of the baby
- Name, Rate and Division of the man submitting the picture.
- The baby's relationship to the man.
- Parents and home address of the baby.

3. All contestants will be under three years of age (as of March 1) and must be the child, brother or sister of the man submitting the entry.

4. The winning baby will be adjudged "Baby Benn" and will receive appropriate Navy and National publicity in addition to prizes and a suitable engraved loving cup.

5. The judges will consist of the following:

Captain Paul Foley, Jr., commanding officer
Commander R.E. Handran, CHC, senior chaplain
Paul A. Lazzaro, JO2, Editor, JET BLAST

6. Black and white photos are preferred since color photographs cannot be reproduced in the JET BLAST. All photos will be returned upon request.

WILL ONE OF THESE BE BABY BENN? - These children, selected at random from the many entries already received, all have their sights set on the coveted title of "BABY BENN." However, that favorite snapshot of your own brother, sister, or child, you're carrying in your wallet may be the winner. There's still time to submit more entries - just following the simple rules in the adjoining story.
