VOL 4, NO. 8

U.S.S. Bennington CVA-20

OCT. 10, 1956

First Stop - Hawaii Once again the wighty Bennington points her hurricane how to the Far East as we begin

During the next six months liberty that comes from visit-Hawaii, the crowded streets of

Our first stop in the Pacific will be one to long remenbeaches and warm climate should provide many a fine liberty.

Special Services plans to will take the men to the major will be given to those who wish

The recreational facilities at Pearl Harbor are both numerous and excellent. The Richis located just north of Fleet ities. Softball diamonds. swimming pool, volleyball courts and for those who wish to go fishing or sailing they may do so by organizing small parties and renting boats. All of the facilities are open from 1000 grade).

tion, Brooklyn, N.Y. where he served as senior chaplain at the ordaination to the priesthood in June, 1938 at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

Futher Wallace served as assistant pastor of Sacred Heart

Church in Highland Palls, N.Y.

New York Naval Shipyard.

There are many fine cating spots throughout Onhu, which is the main island of Hawaii, how; ever many of them are somewhat expensive. 'Don The Beachcombers' at Waikiki Beach is a must for those who like typical Hawaiian foods in an island at-hotels in Waikiki but the Royal Hawaiian still stands as the hotel with class and distinction.

Padre Wallace Joins Benn As New Senior Chaplain Commander Anthony T. Wallace officially assumed duties as Senior

Chaplain aboard 'Big Benn' on September 26, 1956, relieving CDR Ralph E. Handran, Catholic Chaplain, Heeding the call to duty, he year he was transferred overseas to the Naval Air Station, Mani, August 1942 having been conmissioned a Lieutenant (junior Twelve months later, he reported to the U.S. Naval Re-His first assignment was at ceiving Station, Pearl Harbor the U.S. Coast Guard Training where he served until V-J Day Station, Alameda, Calif. Next of 1945. Prom there he came back to the U.S. Naval Receiv-The new Padre, a native New until his release from active the U.S. Naval Receiving Sta-duty in March, 1946. Pather Wallace then returned called to active duty in September, 1950, shortly after the outbreak of the Korean War.

In the summer of 1952, Father was ordered to Norfolk, Va., and there he went aboard the